Consider Personality of Child When Selecting Christmas Gifts

Children are easy to please at Christmas time if their personalities and preferences are taken into consideration. For the mechanically minded boy, for example, an erector set or a clock train would probably be very popular. Girls are even easier to please with dolls and miniature home appliances having almost universal appeal.

A few of the many presents which any boy or girl would be glad to receive are suggested below:

BOY
Sled
Ice skates
Bicycles
Electric train
Chemistry set
Adventure books
Modeling clay

GIRL
Doll
Doll buggy
Sewing box
Tricycle
Box of paints
Coloring book
Games
Fairy tales

Evergreen Dispatch

Evergreen, Dec. 1. Only 24 more days before Christmas, and they are among the shortest days of the year.

I would like so much to write a long letter this week, but when one has been confined to his room most of the time for the past two months, one does not get much to write about.

I understand two of my good friends at Evergreen have been somewhat indisposed. Here's hoping they will soon be well again.

If the coming winter is exceptionally cold, it will find most every one here about as well as last year. We will see how the weather turns out.

Every family seems to have several Christmas trees in the house. It is not a day that one or more people are not busy with the Christmas tree.

Wheat Prices Highest in U. S.

The military and economic blockade of the world wheat market in recent years is causing a surplus problem in all the major wheat countries. Canada, Argentina, Australia, and the United States have taken steps to protect their own producers from the depressed world market.

In the United States the market for wheat, acreage allotments, and the import embargo combine to assure our growers about twice what producers are getting in the other countries. The average price received by Canadian growers this year is about 47 cents per bushel, while the United States return is in Argentina 42 to 45 cents. The average farm price in the United States is about 50 cents.

List Suggests Gift Variety For Christmas

Christmas-giving becomes more fun and less of a chore each year. Time was when the only gift was a "what to give a woman" came under the name of "a nerve."

There is no limit to the shape and size of mold to be used. Cardboard boxes such as salt packages are satisfactory. The cartons in which buttermilk is sometimes sold are good for the tapered candles. Good results have even been reported with fancy gelatin molds of certain types and with jelly glasses.

The wax may be fastened through a hole in the bottom of the cardboard containers, but in smooth-bottomed molds, it must be kept in place by pouring in a little wax.

Arrange two small sticks at right angles at the top of the mold and tie the wick in the center so that it will be held securely in place during the pouring process.

Common string, the wick from an old candle, or commercial candle wick may be used. The wick should be soaked in water for a few days before use.

Yule Dinner Merits Novel Table Setting

Christmas dinner, of course, is a very special affair. To add to the merriment for both homebodies and guests, here are ideas for the table setting.

Place cards of big red paper, the name written in white ink, are a pretty touch.

For tree motifs for table or wall decorations, use cellophane straw, paper doilies, pipe-cleaners, screen paper, and a variety of other materials.

For the table centerpiece, have an acrobatic act of gingerbread men or cookie clouds balanced at pre-arranged angles, held together with icing. Or for more seriousness, the whole manger scene may be made and designed with cookie figures.

Another centerpiece can be formed by using a tall candle or wooden standard and placing pine cones around it.

Candles in a log holder are very effective. Drill holes in a small curved pine log, then place the candles in these. Seal the ends with paraffin to prevent the pitch from dripping. Arrange sprigs of pine, holly, holly or cones around the candle holder.
